Study up north!

Specialise in marketing in Harstad – your Arctic study destination. Our staff at the Business School welcome you to an international semester focusing on marketing, experiences, and tourism. We look forward to meeting you.

Course package (30 ECTS) – Specialising in Marketing – Bachelor level

Retail management (7,5 ECTS) This course provides an in-depth look at retail management with a focus on brick-and-mortar operations, covering essential topics like retail strategy, competitive advantage, omni-channel retailing, and store design.

Service management and innovation (7,5 ECTS) This course explores service management in marketing, covering the unique traits of services, balancing intangible and tangible elements, customer and business roles, and the importance of innovation in service design, delivery, and development.

Tourism management (7,5 ECTS) This course provides an essential introduction to the tourism industry, addressing its supply and demand dimensions. Students will gain a broad understanding of tourism history, key destinations, market segmentation, and management of tourism and hospitality.

Experience development (7,5 ECTS) This course examines society's shift to the experience economy, focusing on experiences as key economic offerings. It explores co-creation, value creation, and consumer influence, covering diverse areas like nature, culture, and lifestyle while emphasising consumer power in marketing.

Relevance

This course package equips students with essential skills for roles in tourism, retail, service, and experience management. Students are prepared to enhance customer engagement, drive sustainable business growth, and apply innovative strategies across diverse industries and global markets. It includes lectures, seminars, company visits, and field excursions – blending theory with practical experience.
